Get Ready for Summer!

Summer days will soon be here again! Summer at City 2009 was wonderful—and now it's time to begin thinking about how to get your child involved this summer. Our summer program offers a variety of opportunities for learning and fun, including traditional camp activities, arts experiences, sports, and field trips.

Summer at City is a full-day program. In the morning, City Academy faculty lead math, reading, and language arts enrichment activities that are linked closely to our school's curricular goals. I'm excited to announce an enhancement for this summer. Thanks to a new partnership, students will receive individualized tutoring in reading from trained OASIS volunteers each day. OASIS, a national education organization, is dedicated to enriching the lives of mature adults by engaging them in lifelong learning and service programs.

Our summer program will offer an array of fun activities each afternoon. Also, during Exploration Week, field trips will enable students to explore interesting places throughout the St. Louis area, with an emphasis on nature and science. (Last year, field trips included the Missouri Botanical Garden, Columbia Bottoms Conservation Area,

St. Louis Zoo, Busch Wildlife, and Shaw Nature Reserve.)

At Summer at City, we believe each City Academy student deserves programming of the highest quality. Our staff is committed to upholding the high standards of City Academy while challenging students to enhance their individual talents. Throughout the seven-week camp, students will have plenty of opportunities to grow, explore, create, play, and have fun!

Creating objects with clay is time-consuming, but it's one of our students' favorite art activities. I know they are looking forward to showing off the products of their hard work!
